Baptisms at Port Stephens, entered in Sir Edward Parry's Letterbook.

The first Company chaplain, William Macquarie Cowper, arrived on the Company's Estate at Port Stephens in 1836. Before that time, parents took their children either to Newcastle or Sydney for baptism, or the children were baptised by Archdeacons Scott and Broughton and the Reverend Richard Hill when visiting Port Stephens, Lieutenant Rate of the 57th Regiment stationed at Port Stephens, or Sir Edward Parry the Company's Commissioner.

Many of the children were later 'received into the congregation' at Christ Church, Newcastle, and duly noted in the baptismal record there.
